CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, held their regular monthly meeting at their hall last night. It was well attended. The committee appointed to prepare resolutions on the death of General Lee, Geo. W. Francis, Wm. H. May, Beverly R. Mason and J. W. Sutherland, reported and the resolutions were ordered to be spread upon the minutes and copies sent to the families of the deceased.

An application from a former member of the Seventeenth Virginia Infantry asking an endorsement for admission to the Soldiers' Home of Richmond was received. Several relics were presented to the Camp's Museum by Mr. Robert A. Chapman of Charles County, Md., for which thanks were directed to be returned. Also a handsome framed picture of the membership of the Garland-Rhodes Camp of Lynchburg, Va., presented by Comrade J. A. Humphries, formerly of Company E, Seventeenth Virginia Infantry. The adjutant was ordered to tender the thanks of the Camp of Comrade Humphries. The thanks of the camp were extended to all who assisted at the memorial day exercises on May 24th, last.

NEW TRIAL.

The Court of Appeals at Wytheville yesterday granted a writ of error in the case of Frederick Schwab, of Alexandria against the Washington Lumber Company. On March 3 last Schwab was given a verdict in the Circuit Court of Alexandria of $4,500 in his suit to recover damages in the sum of $10,000 for the loss of a leg while operating an aerial swing in Luna Park. The court afterward set aside the verdict. An appeal was taken and a new trial will follow. Schwab ran an aerial swing for the defendant company. Three trolleys slipped off at once, and while trying to arrange matters his foot was caught in cogs, with the result that he lost his foot and part of his leg above the ankle. Upon the trial of his suit the court sustained a demurrer produced by the defendant. The claim was made that he was not supposed to fix matters if all three trolleys slipped off at once, but in such a case it was his duty to hunt up the electrician. Schwab said he did not see that this was the thing to do, while women were swinging high in the air in the darkness.

CORPORATION COURT.

The Corporation Court (grand jury term) will meet on the 15th instant. The following cases will be brought before the grand jury.

Com. vs. Lee Drowns, charged with breaking into a house with a similar intent.

MORE RAIN.

Rain fell again last night. There was also some thunder and lightning. It has been clear and cooler today. During the prevalence of the rain a bolt of lightning knocked the top off the flagpole on the Regent Hotel, Pennsylvania avenue and Fifteenth street, Washington, and played other pranks in the vicinity, without causing any serious damage.

The board of stewards of the M. E. Church South will meet tonight.

PLEA FOR FORMER ALEXANDRIAN

John Fahline, superintendent of the Driggs-Seabury Ordinance corporation of Sharon, Pa., has written a letter to Mayor Bach of Cleveland, pleading for Chief Kohler, who was recently deposed from the head of the police department of Cleveland. He refers to the "Spanish inquisition" and "a Russian tribunal," and says Kohler's name will be remembered long after the mayor's is forgotten. "I have never seen Chief Kohler, but consider him a man, not a brute, one who would execute the laws with justice, wisdom and moderation," Mr. Fahline writes. He says the "classes, not the masses" are trying to down the chief. Fahline's letter is one of hundreds pouring into the mayor's and the chief's offices, from cities from Maine to Oregon. Cleveland businessmen and manufacturers are sending letters that swell the number. "I am not in accord with some of Chief Kohler's police policies" writes one Clevelandian, "but I hope for the good of our city and the sake of good government, he will be cleared." (Sharon Telegraph, June 4.)

(Mr. Fahline spent his boyhood days in Alexandria, and is well-known to many persons in this city.)

IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE.

A largely attended special meeting of the Civic Improvement League was held at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce last evening with Mr. Paffly in the chair. The attention of the meeting was directed to the very noisy Fourth of July in Alexandria last year and plans were discussed for observing the day in a safe and sane manner. It was decided to have a celebration on the Fourth of July at George Washington Park, with an oration by a member of Congress; a band concert, a baseball game, a competitive drill and other attractive features. Refreshments will be served by members of the league. The mayor of Alexandria was present and gave his official approval. Committees were appointed to make all arrangements.

It was also decided to give an excursion to Marshall Hall on Friday, July eighth. Arrangements have been completed to have the steamer Macalister make three trips to and four trips from Marshall Hall. The extra trip will accommodate the large crowd expected. It is stated that the Chamber of Commerce baseball team will challenge the Washington Chamber of Commerce team to play a game of ball during the afternoon of the 8th.

The primary object of this excursion is the purchase of screens for the almshouse. In doing this the Civic Improvement League is following up the work inaugurated sometime ago for the betterment of that institution. A meeting will be held Friday evening to perfect arrangements for the celebration of the fourth and the excursion.

INVESTIGATING ELECTRIC LIGHT.

Mr. Philander Betts, of Washington, consulting engineer, was before the special committee of the City Council last night to determine whether or not the Alexandria Electric Company is furnishing the city with the candle-power electric lights it has guaranteed. Mr. Betts testified that the company has not for some time nor is it now furnishing the city with the candle-power lights provided for in its contract. Mr. Uhler, chairman of the light committee, showed the correspondence held between the electric company, Mr. Betts and the light committee some time since when the matter was discussed in Council.

DIED.

On Tuesday, June 7, 1910, at 6:30 o'clock, Mrs. FANNIE ELIZABETH EDELEN, wife of Mr. Lewis Edelen, aged 68 years. As we see our love decayed, And the hopes so fondly cherished, Brighten but to pass away, One by one our shining shore, For we know across the river, Wait the loved ones gone before, Through all pain at time she'd smile, A smile of Heaven's called her home, She smiled farewell to earth, Heaven retained now our treasure, Earth the lonely easter keeps, And the sunbeams long to linger, Where my sainted wife sleeps.

BY HIS HUSBAND.

Her funeral will take place from St. Mary's Church on Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock, when high mass will be celebrated. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend.

A HANDSOME STRUCTURE.

The new building recently erected by W. Demaine & Son, funeral directors, at 817-819 King street, having received all its exterior and interior decorations, now stands completed. The building is a modern undertaking establishment in every particular. It is imposing and an ornament to the city.

The office, chapel, show room and morgue will bear comparison with any in the larger cities of the country. The business was established by the late William Demaine in 1865. The latter over half a century ago was foreman for the late Charles Koons, who conducted the cabinet making business in a building which stood on the northwest corner of King and Columbus streets.

NEW EVIDENCE FOR JOHNSON.

Mr. Machen this afternoon sent to Governor Mann the affidavits of a white man and a white woman that they saw and talked with Calvin Johnson on Cameron street at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of March 6, 1909, which was the time Henry Smith originally testified Johnson was helping to murder Schultz. The affidavits of two colored witnesses showing an alibi for Johnson were sent to the governor some days ago. Mr. Machen does not believe that the governor will let Johnson go to the chair in the face of this testimony, as the only evidence to the contrary was that of Henry Smith, which Smith repudiated in the statement made while he was going to the chair.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, June 7.—Wall street apparently accepted the announcement that President Taft had arranged matters satisfactorily with the Western Railroad presidents as a "bull" argument, for the market opened today with an upward movement in prices in progress in all stocks. The railway shares were especially strong in sympathy with the London market where there sensational recoveries in the early dealings due to short covering from this side.

Not in a long period has the stock market shown so much excitement as today's opening. Initial prices ranged from two to four points higher. As soon as the buying orders were filled, though there was a sharp reaction of from one to two points. On the reaction the market steadied with prices ranging two or three points above yesterday's close.

The market held well at a range substantially above yesterday's close with a number of stocks recovering a part of the reaction that occurred after the opening. In the late forenoon the market was generally strong.
